Stories have power – to educate, to entertain, to inform and to enlighten. Stories can bring us together, and make people feel less alone. A story, told well, can help us feel a deeper connection with our neighbors and to the wider world at large.

During my eighteen years at OPB, I have seen the power of shared stories in action. Stories that have shaped our region’s history. Stories delivered in new and accessible ways that enrich lives and strengthen communities. Stories that OPB members make possible.

As I announced this summer, I am stepping away from OPB in 2024, and our organization will welcome a new leader to guide OPB into its second century of service. And as they do, they will be steadfastly driven by this mission:

Connecting people across Oregon and the Pacific Northwest through the power of a shared story.

While this is my last annual message to you, I am confident that OPB will continue to evolve to carry this mission forward. Together, with your support, OPB will harness the power of stories that are for everyone across Oregon, Southwest Washington and beyond. And to provide all that OPB has to offer for free.

As you plan your year-end giving, please use the pink envelope included in this guide to make your special year-end contribution to OPB. Better yet, make a Sustaining contribution and do even more to ensure the OPB of tomorrow remains strong.

Thank you for your generous support of OPB.

Steven M. Bass
President and CEO

COMING IN 2024

Changing Planet: Coral For the first time, the world’s most eminent coral scientists will converge upon the Maldives for the most ambitious project ever attempted: saving the islands’ dying coral reefs. If successful, their work will be a game changer for the future of reefs around the world.

Oregon Field Guide Hidden Nature of the Columbia Slough. The Columbia Slough in North Portland is Oregon’s most industrialized and culturally diverse watershed, but decades of neglect have taken a toll. A new wave of volunteers and residents have taken it upon themselves to be caretakers of this place, and their efforts are revealing a surprisingly resilient bastion of nature.

Nature Big Little Journeys. When you are just a few inches tall, grasses appear like skyscrapers, mounds become mountains and raindrops fall as big as cars. Discover how even the simplest journeys can become incredible adventures.

Oregon Art Beat In Enterprise, a couple is restoring the OK Theatre, a century-old performing arts theater in their town. They go to great lengths to draw both homegrown musicians and Grammy-award winners, like Jon Cleary, from across the country to put on shows that bring their community together.

Gospel Henry Louis Gates, Jr. explores the story of how Gospel music and Black preaching have grown together into a potent cultural force that transcends the Black Church.

Masterpiece All Creatures Great and Small: Season 4. Return to the picturesque Yorkshire Dales, where change is on the horizon. Beloved country vet James Herriot and new wife Helen wonder when they’ll start a family, while Tristan’s absence serving in the war is felt by all.

Frontline The Choice 2024. Examine what has shaped the 2024 presidential candidates, where they came from and how they lead.

Oregon Experience Pioneering Hearts. In 1958, a young surgeon and retired engineer embarked on an unexpected collaboration that would result in a revolutionary breakthrough in cardiac surgery: the invention of the world’s first successful artificial mitral heart valve.

DECEMBER 2023
WAYS TO GIVE

Your support makes OPB possible!

Switch to Sustaining membership

Switch to a Sustaining membership with an ongoing monthly contribution and do even more for the programs you love. Plus, when you become a Sustainer, you can stream all your favorite shows whenever you want with your OPB Passport benefit.

Make your special gift by December 31 through your IRA

If you are 70¼ or older, you can direct a qualified charitable gift from your IRA to OPB and generally pay no income taxes on the gift.

Please consult your tax advisor about your personal tax situation. For more information call Nick Warren at 503.977.7799.

Support regional journalism with your gift of stock

Your gift to OPB of appreciated stock can provide tremendous tax benefits to you. Renew or start your membership with a stock gift to OPB. For more information, contact Nick Warren at 503.977.7799, nwarren@opb.org or visit opb.org/stock

Donate your vehicle!

Turn a car you no longer need into the programs you count on. You can donate trucks, motorcycles, RVs and boats, too.

It’s fast, easy and tax deductible! No-contact pickups are available. Call 503.421.3273 or visit opb.org/car to schedule a free pickup.

Planning for the future

As a valued member of the OPB community, we have a gift for you: OPB’s free Will and Estate Planning Guide. This essential tool is helpful on its own, or in preparation for meeting with an estate planning attorney or other professional advisor.

For your free copy, contact Jeri Kasal at 503.293.1941, jkasal@opb.org or visit opb.org/legacy

OPB is yours!

Your membership support for OPB brings people together through the power of shared facts, trusted journalism and inspiring programs.

As we rise to meet the challenges of the future together, your special contribution now will help OPB share the stories that enrich lives and strengthen our communities for everyone.

Use this pink envelope or go to opb.org/actnow to become a Sustainer with a monthly, ongoing contribution or to make your special year-end gift.

Thank you!

Contribute now with this pink envelope or give online at opb.org/actnow
